

Treya Nash

Sunday Routine

for two percussionists, narrator, and audience

ca. 10'

2024

Setup and Instrumentation

Sunday Routine is for two percussionists, narrator, and audience. The narrator should be amplified and hidden from view, but should still be able to hear the audience and percussionists. They could be behind a curtain, wing, or door depending on the space. Each audience member will receive a bag of objects (listed on the next page) to play with.

Percussion Instruments:

Bass Drum (initially with an upside down cymbal on top): This will mostly be played by P. 1, but sometimes P. 2 as well, so should be accessible for both.

P. 1:

- mallets
- brushes
- 2 sheets of paper
- aluminum foil filled with paper clips (made into a little pocket so paperclips are fully contained)
- 1 magazine
- container of mini dice (provided by composer)
- pen or pencil
- 2 small rocks/stones

P. 2:

- mallets
- snare drum
- medium or large metal bowl, jug filled with rice
- rainstick
- aluminum foil filled with paper clips (made into a little pocket so paperclips are fully contained)
- 1 magazine
- container of mini dice (provided by composer)
- small bag of mini dice (provided by composer)
- 1 sheet of paper and a pen or pencil
- 2 small rocks/stones

Each audience member will need the following items. They can be placed under audience seats, or distributed before the performance. Composer will provide all audience items.

- aluminum foil filled with paper clips (made into a little pocket so paperclips are fully contained)
- 1 magazine
- small bag of dice
- 1 sheet of paper and a pen
- 2 rocks/stones

The narrator will need the following items. Composer will provide all narrator items except for speakers & micstand

- microphone, xlr cable, micstand
- audio interface connected to 2 speakers via 1/4 or xlr cables
- laptop connected to audio interface
- aluminum foil filled with paper clips (made into a little pocket so paperclips are fully contained)
- 1 magazine
- small bag of dice

Performance Notes

Role of the Audience, Narrator, and Percussionists

The narrator will instruct the audience throughout the piece. The percussionists will often demonstrate actions to the audience or signal for them to stop playing.

The audience part on the score is for the reference and does not need to be given to the audience.

Due to the integrated nature of the piece, percussionists and narrator should use the full score.

Recorded storm sounds that start at the end of the first section will continue quietly until the end of the piece.

Timing & durations

Each of the four sections (Storm, Magazine/Whisper, Dice Game, and Ritual) should last around 2.5 minutes, but may be slightly longer/shorter. The piece should not exceed 10 minutes.

Generally, the piece is unmeasured. The narrator's speech is a structural guide for the percussionists.

If a percussionist performance action occurs immediately after a line of narrator dialogue, begin playing immediately after.

There are two symbols for stopping:

Stop playing when the narrator starts speaking. roughly at the same time unless only one has the symbol.

Stop playing by themselves, roughly at the same time unless only one has the symbol.

Some indications of duration are given, such as 25 seconds on page 1, etc. These can be roughly estimated but percussionists should coordinate.

The magazine/whisper section use tempo terms (Vivace and Andante) as a guideline. These do not continue beyond the section. The Andante section uses measures, which are numbered.

This dotted line is used to continue the current action until the line ends.

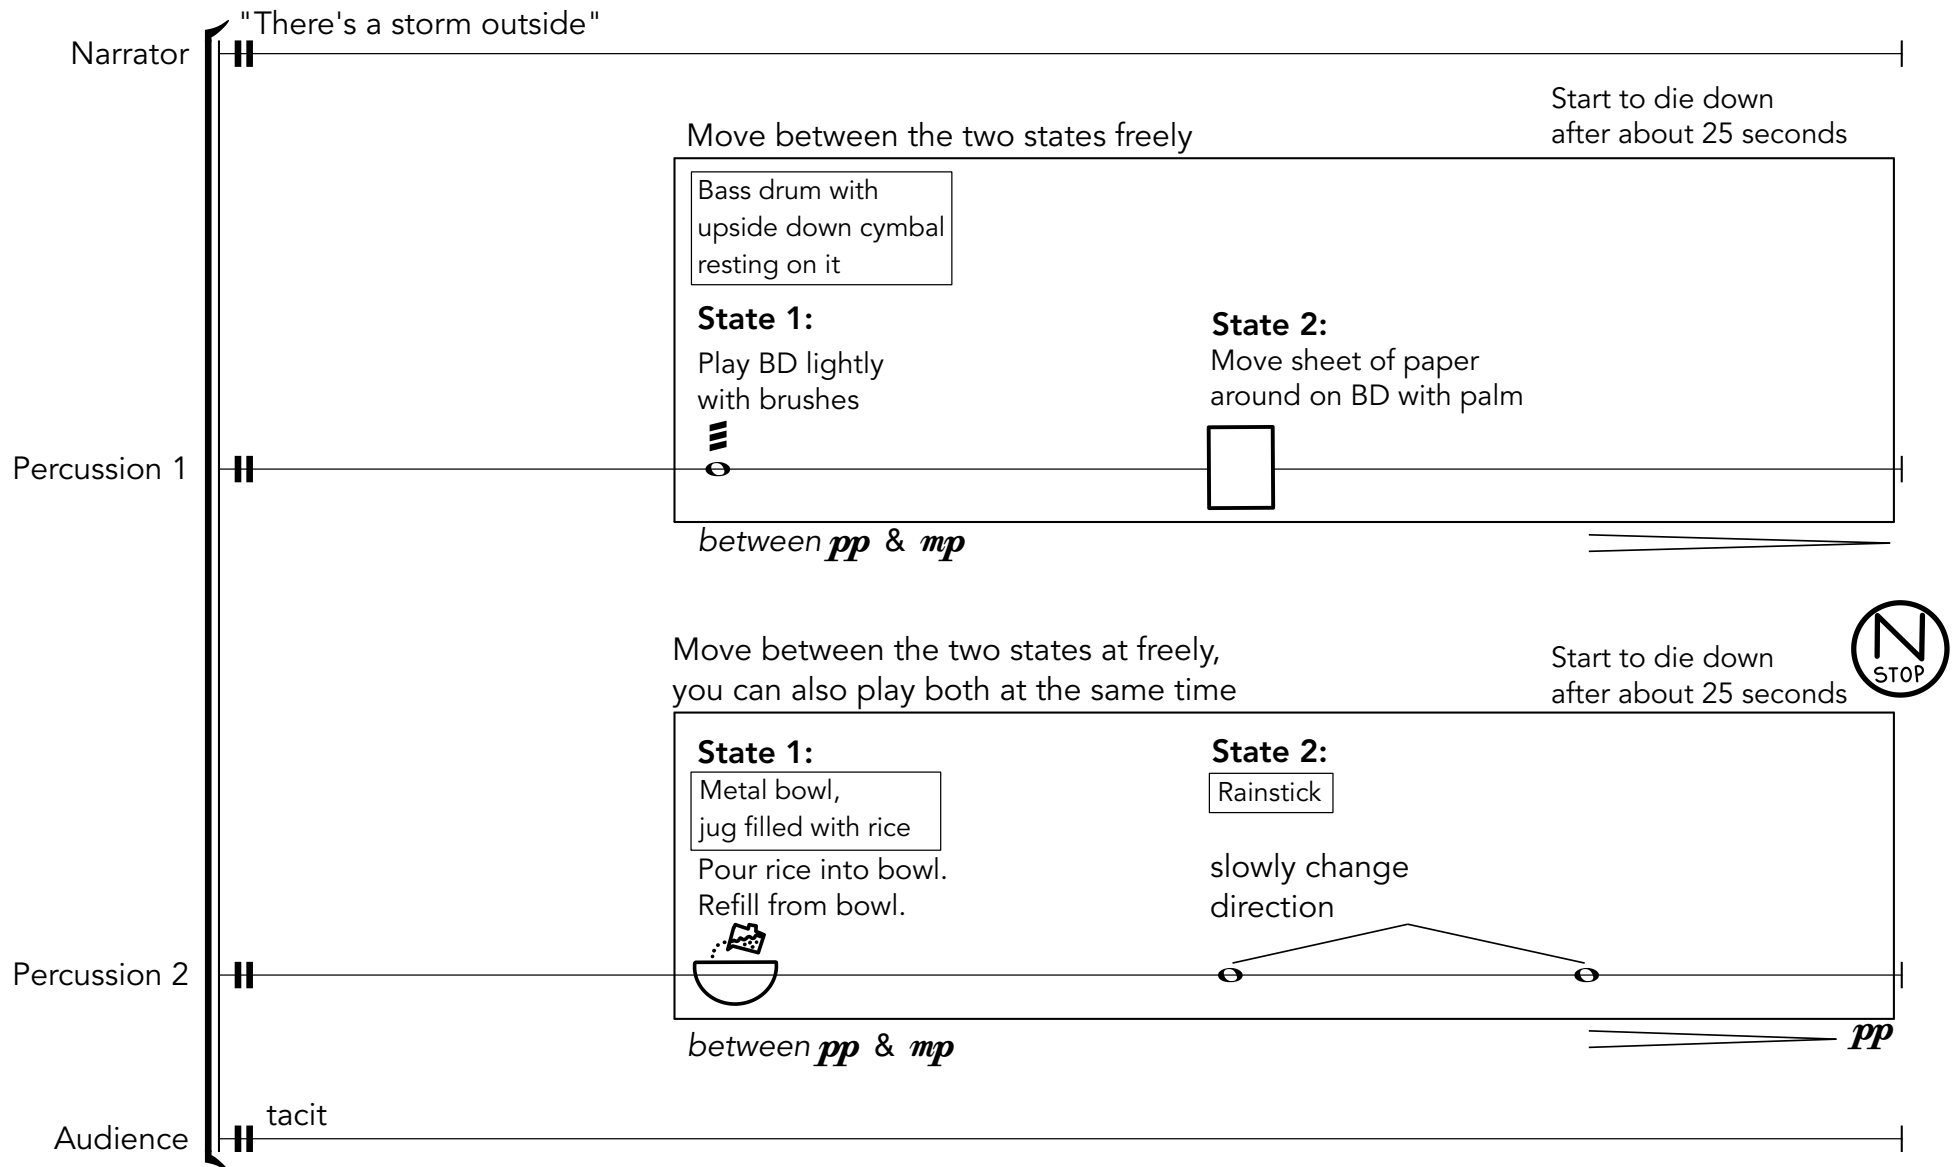

In instances where players have written instructions with no dotted line or other durational marking, players should begin the next instruction immediately (adding a brief pause/reset if necessary).

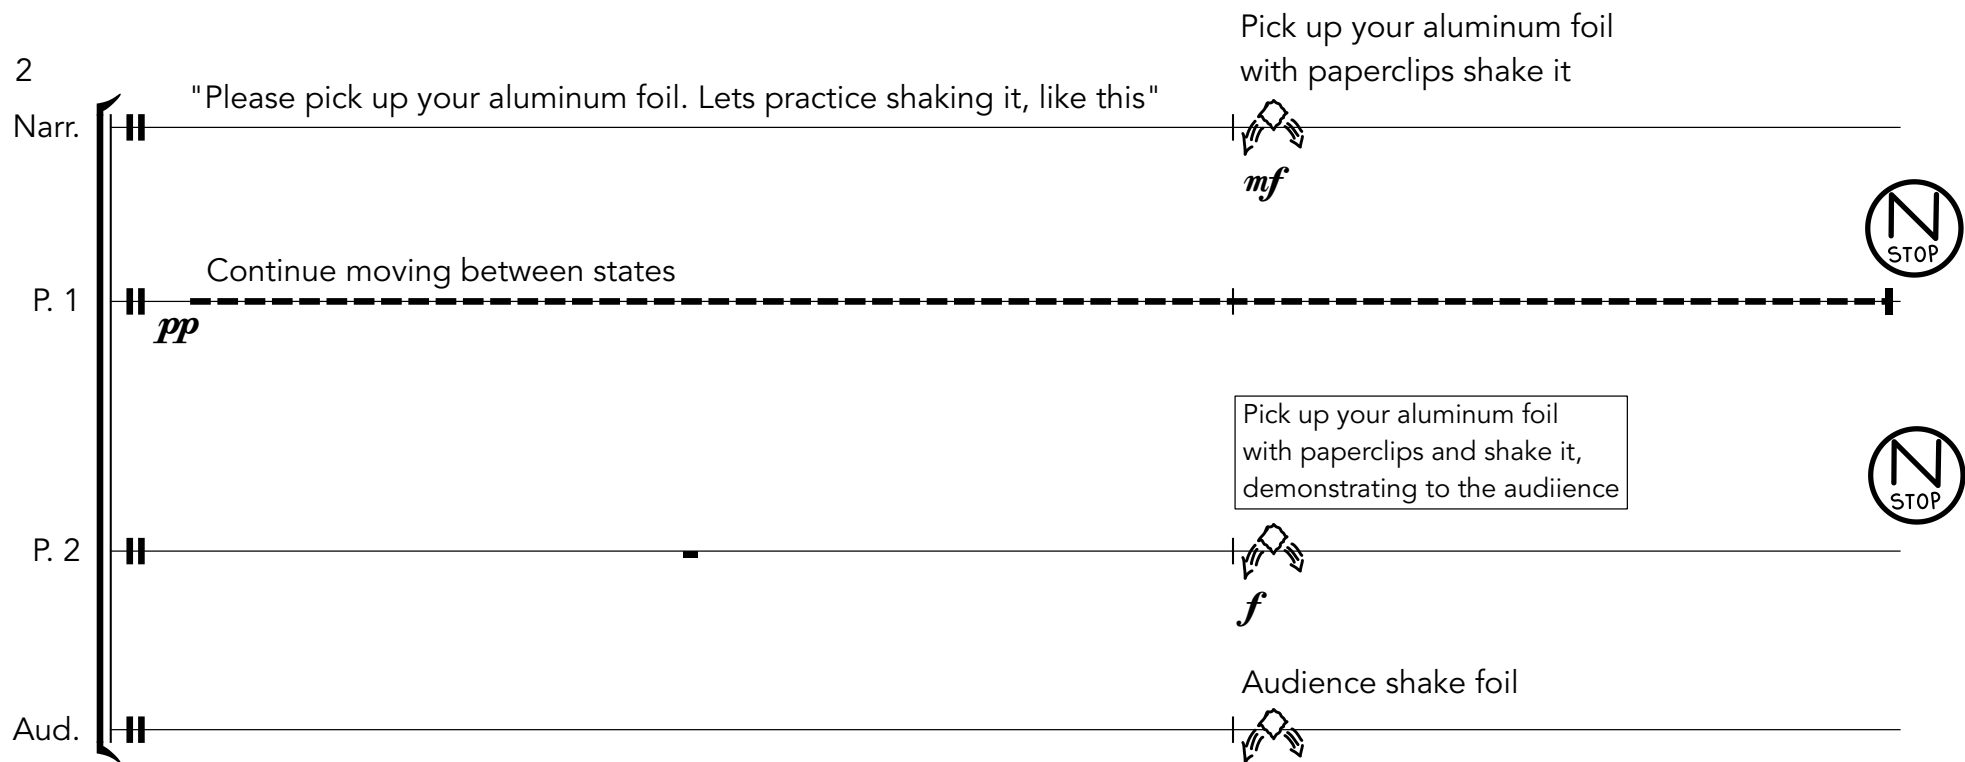

Before the piece starts, Narr. will address audience, giving a short note about instructions etc.
Narr. will pause before starting.

Sunday Routine

I. Storm

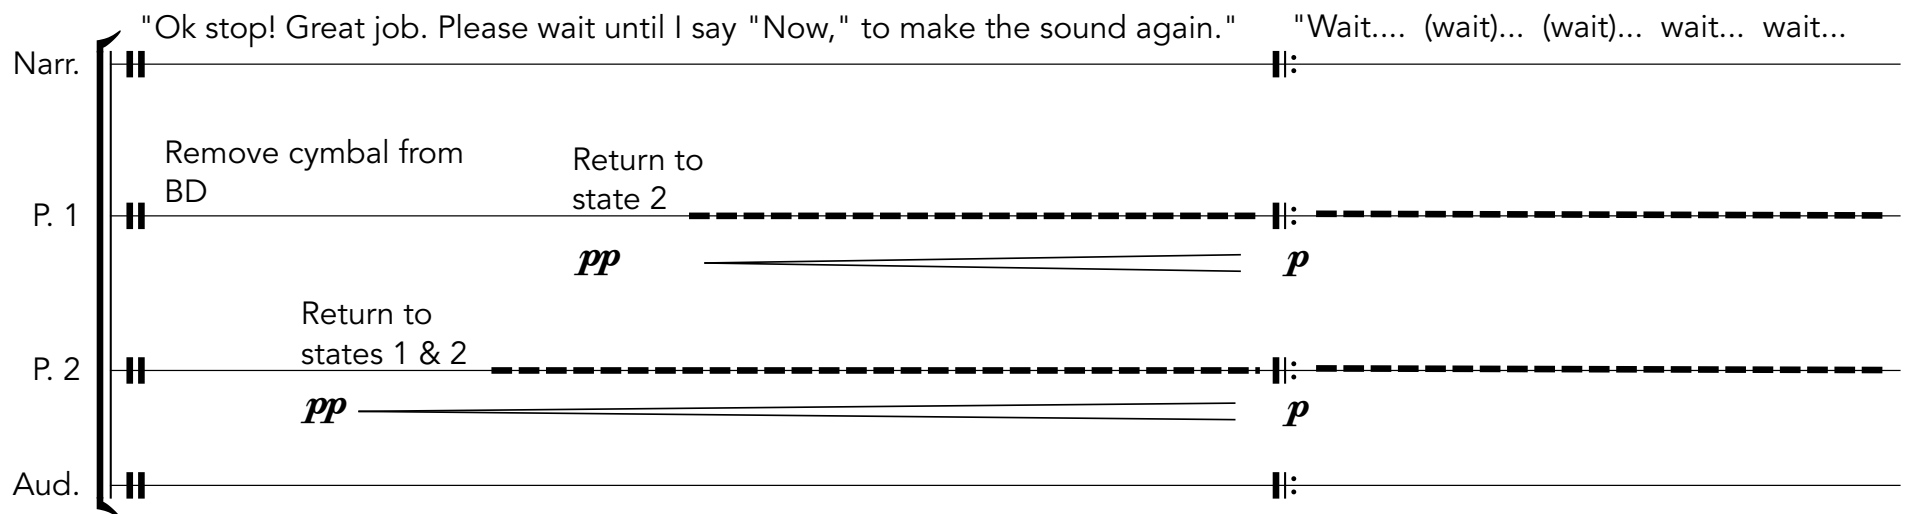

Treya Nash

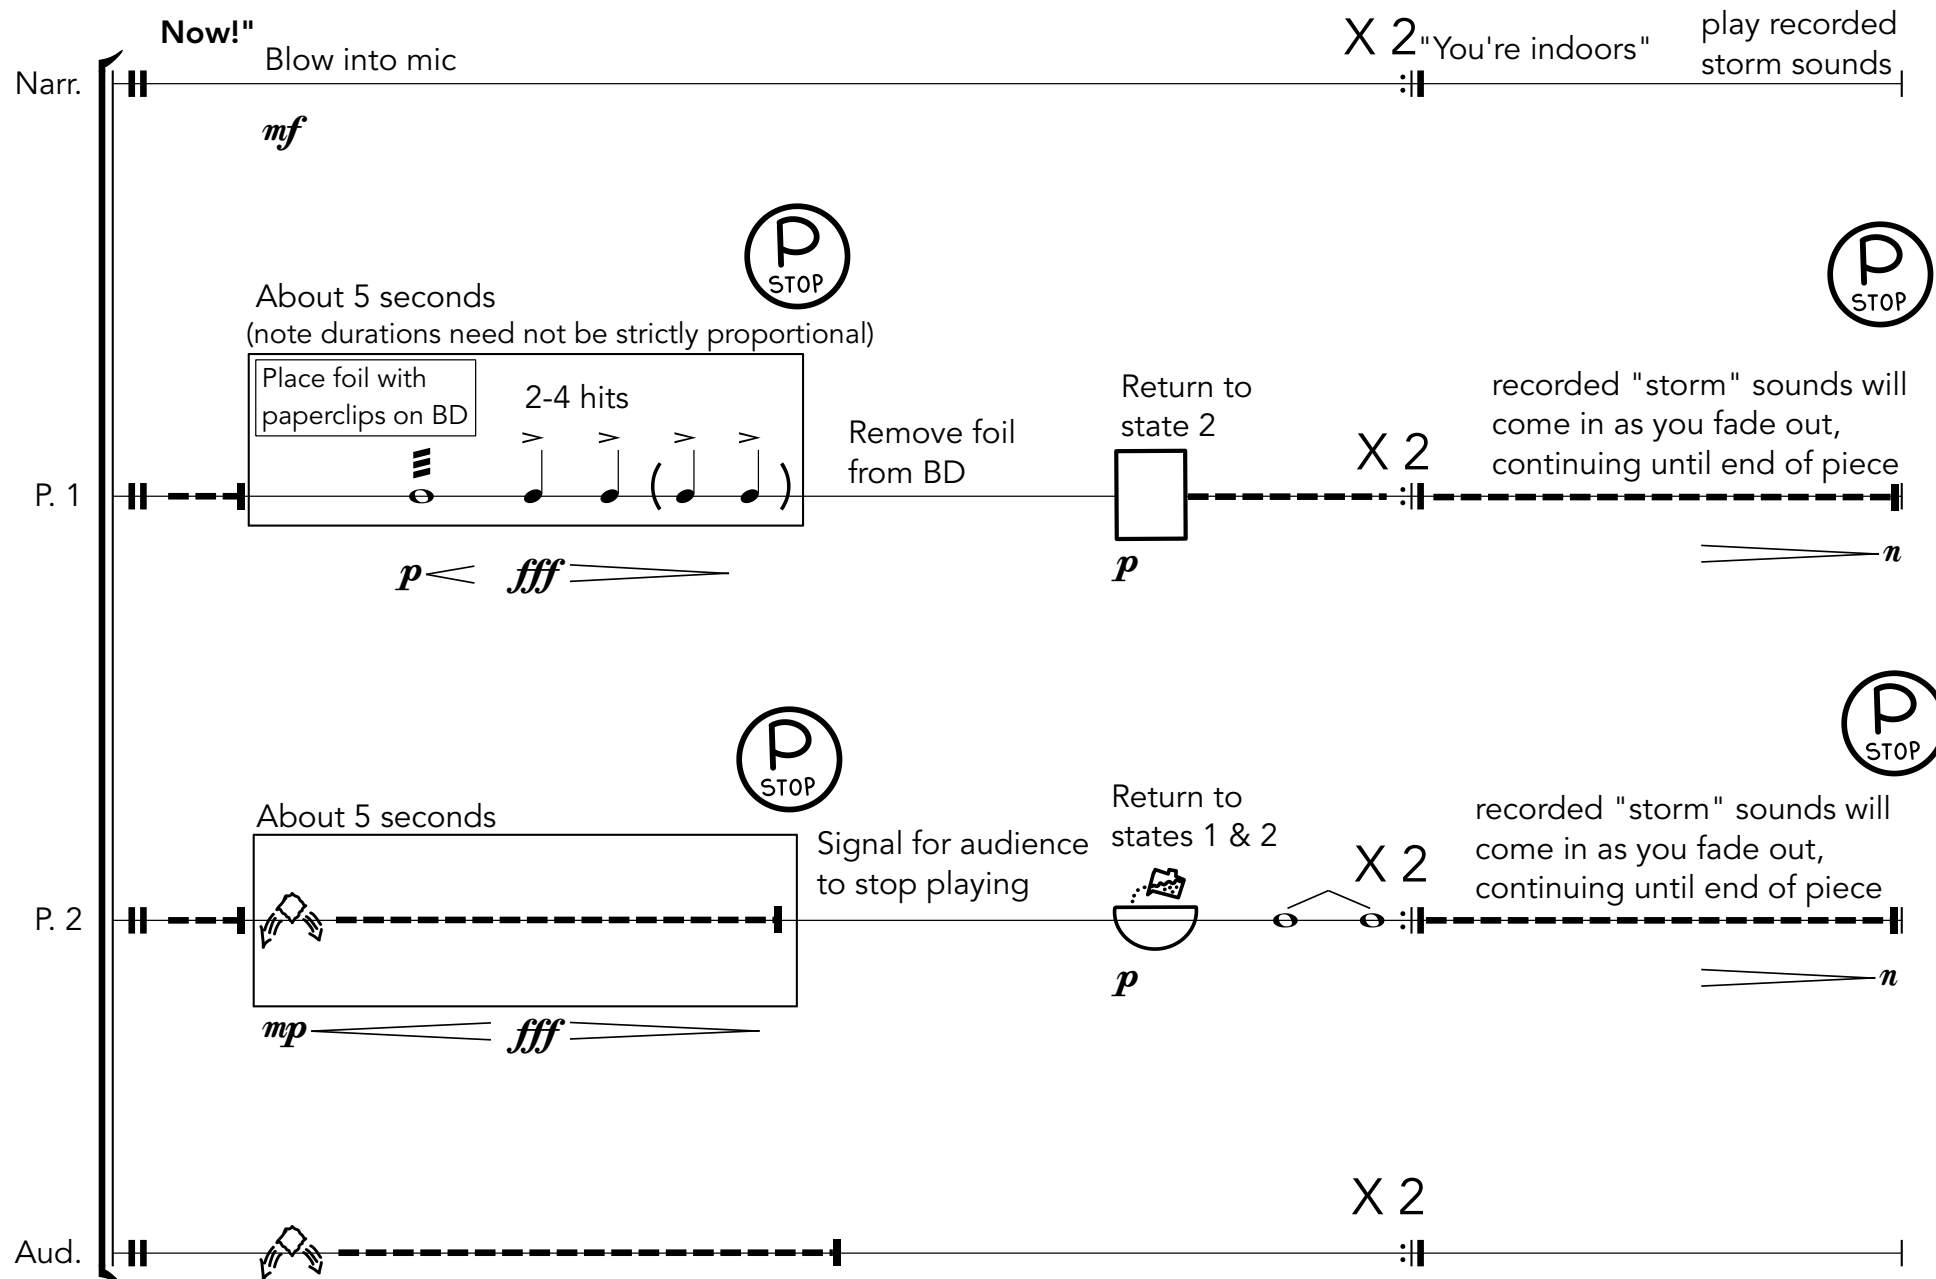

Thunder Sequence

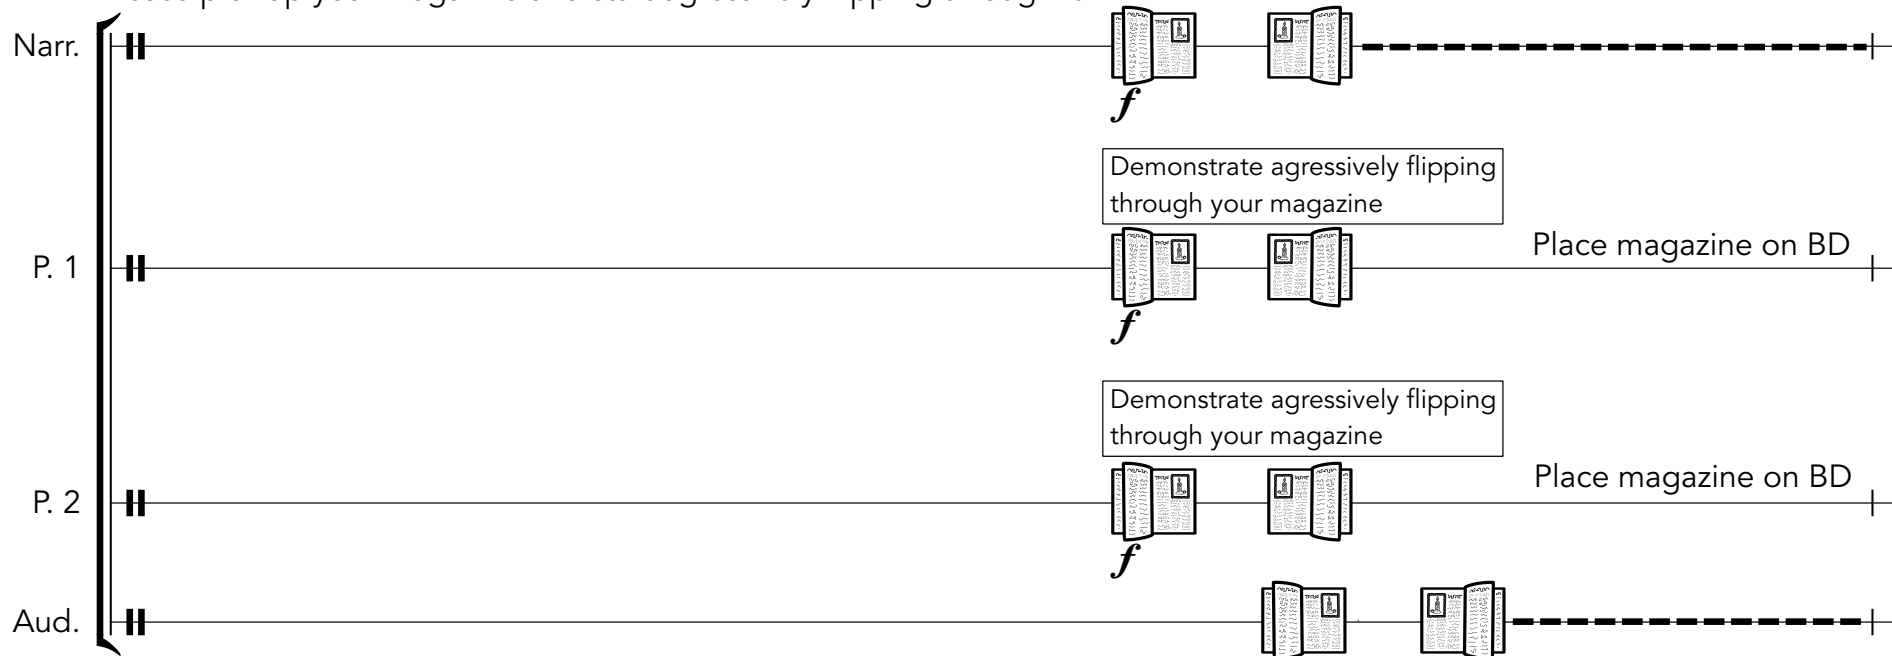

(3-5 "wait"s)

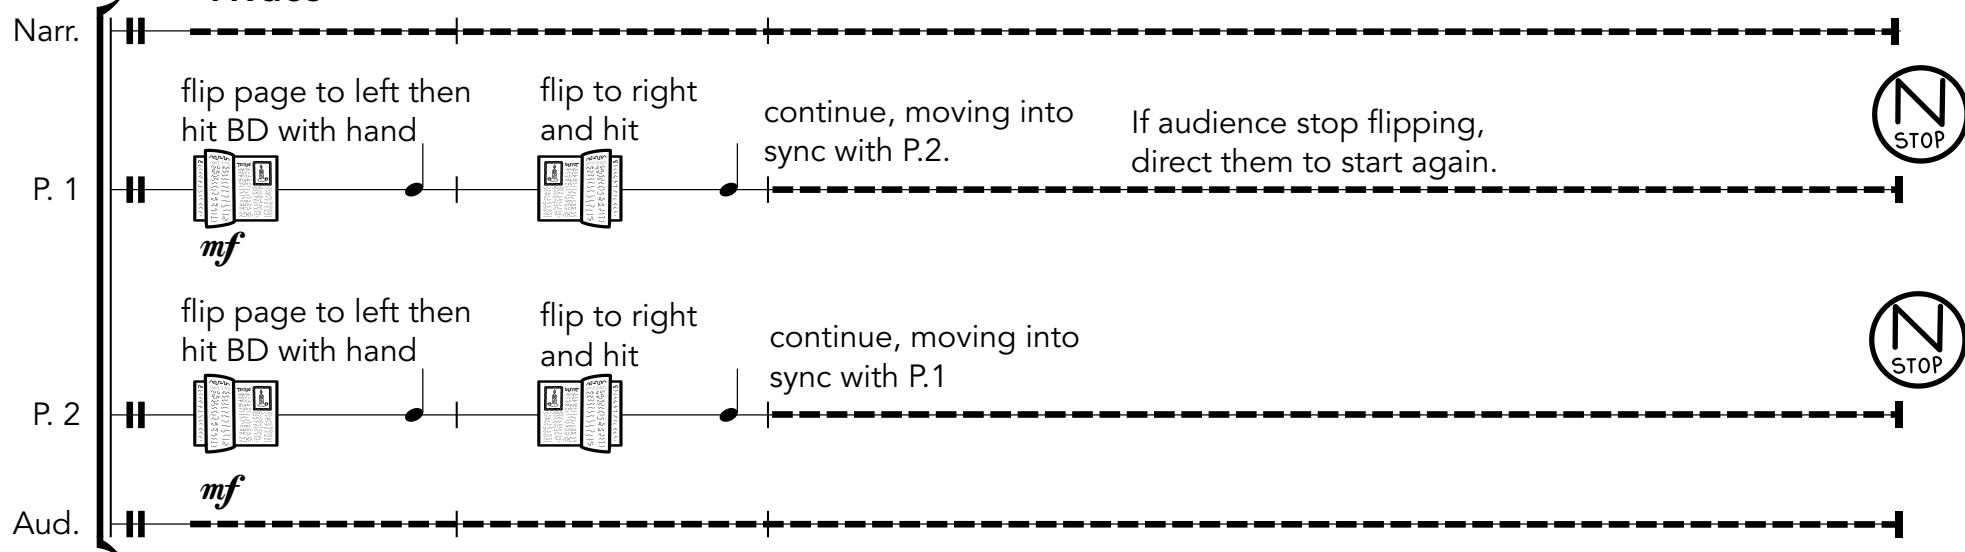

II. Magazine/Whisper

"Please pick up your magazine and start aggressively flipping through it"

Vivace

5

Narr. "Please pick a random page" "Please start to read your page aloud in a whisper." p Start reading your page⁵ aloud in a whisper

P. 1 Pick up your magazine and choose a random page p Start reading your page aloud in a whisper

P. 2 Pick up your magazine and choose a random page p Start reading your page aloud in a whisper

Aud. Audience start whispering their page

1

Narr. "Please put your magazine down and take a moment to just listen" Andante

P. 1  Set tempo, keep magazine open with one hand

P. 2  Snare (mallet) mf

Aud.

6

2

Narr.

mp

P. 1

mp

P. 2

mp

BD
Play BD and speak at the same time

Play snare and speak at the same time (mallet)

8

Narr.

Stop speaking but continue to play

ff

P. 1

Stop speaking but continue to play

ff

P. 2

ff

III. Dice Game

7

Narr. "please pick up your bag of dice and shake it."

P. 1

P. 2

Aud.

Sprinkle dice onto BD and play tremolo with fingers

mp

demonstrate shaking your bag of dice to the audience

f

Sprinkle dice onto BD and play tremolo with fingers

mp

audience shake dice

The musical score for 'Dice Game' is written for four parts: Narrator (Narr.), P. 1, P. 2, and Audience (Aud.). The score is divided into two systems. The first system begins with the Narrator's instruction: "please pick up your bag of dice and shake it." This is followed by a series of actions: P. 1 sprinkles dice onto the BD (bass drum) and plays a tremolo with fingers, marked mp; P. 2 demonstrates shaking their bag of dice to the audience, marked f; and the Audience shakes their dice, marked mp. The second system begins with the Narrator's instruction: "Audience, pick your favorite die. Choose one of the six numbers. Write your number down on your piece of paper."

8

Narr. "And the winning number is... drumroll please"

P. 1

P. 2

Aud.

Wait for the audience to write their numbers on their paper, then:

Audience write down their numbers

Snare

mf

f

Play to signal to Narr. that most are finished

STOP

STOP

STOP

Narr. "Four! Please raise your hand if your number is four!"

P. 1

P. 2

Aud.

Count number of people who raise their hands. Hit BD that many times (in time with P. 2)

BD

etc.

Count number of people who raise their hands. Hit snare that many times (in time with P. 1)

etc.

Audience raise their hands if they picked four

If nobody picks four, allow a moment of silence. Narr. will pick a new number and repeat sequence.

If nobody picks four, allow a moment of silence. Narr. will pick a new number and repeat sequence.

IV. Ritual

9

"Congratulations, you win! Winners, Please take a brief moment to write down your favorite Sunday activity for me to read aloud!"

Narr.

P. 1

P. 2

Aud.

Narr.  "Please pick up your rocks"

P. 1  As the audience write on their paper,
write your own favorite sunday activity on your piece of paper. When it seems like the audience are done, collect their papers.
Pass them, yours, and P. 2s to Narr.

P. 2  As the audience write on their paper,
write your own favorite sunday activity
on your piece of paper.

Aud.  Winning audience members write on their papers.

